

KNIGHTS HOLD BIG RECEPTION AT HALL FOR PAPAL ENVOY

Bonzano Greeted by 2,500 Members of Order, Including Many Statesmen.

In honor of Monsignor Giovanni Bonzano, archbishop of Milan, and apostolic delegate to the United States, a reception was given by more than 2,500 Knights of Columbus and their friends in the organization's hall, 608 B street northwest.

A guard of honor to the papal envoy was formed by members of the fourth degree, while twenty-five members from each of the third degree councils formed a double line leading to the stage, William J. McGee, grand knight of the Carroll council, and State Chaplain Rev. Father P. J. O'Connor, escorted the delegation staff to the hall.

Edward P. Harrington, State deputy, introduced Monsignor Bonzano to the assembly. For more than two hours an informal handshaking reception was held, with State Chaplain O'Connor making the introductions. Hundreds of visiting knights, who were gathered from the Columbus memorial unveiling for the reception, were among those introduced.

Among the lay guests of honor were: Senator Henry F. Ashurst of Arizona; Senator James A. O'Gorman of New York; Senator-elect Joseph E. Ransdell of Louisiana, and Congressman John J. Fitzgerald of New York; James M. Graham of Illinois; James T. McDevitt of Illinois; Thomas L. Reilly of Connecticut; Charles V. Korb of Indiana; Frank Buchanan of Illinois; James M. McLaughlin of Massachusetts; Michael Donohoe of Pennsylvania; Albert Estabrook of Louisiana; Michael E. Driscoll of New York; George F. O'Shaughnessy of Rhode Island.

The reception was given under the direction of the following committee, composed of the heads of the District Councils: Grand Knight McGee, Carroll Council (chairman); Dr. J. A. Flynn, Keane Council; Thomas J. Gallher, Spaulding Council; Dr. S. Ben Howard, Potomac Council; Francis B. Moriarty, Washington Council; and Charles A. Osborne, Carroll Council.

Worthy Foes Praised At Veterans' Banquet

More than sixty veterans attended the thirty-second anniversary banquet of the National Rifles Veterans, held last night at Freund's. Memorial tributes to absent members was paid, as lights were extinguished, the bugle sounded "Taps," and the muffled drum tolled out its requiem for the dead.

"Nothing but a fight," said Capt. James F. Oyster, president of the organization, "will make us appreciate the true worth of one another. We fought the Confederates to truly appreciate just how grand they were. We found out that we were not so good as they were, and now we respect each other with that respect which is born of a fight only."

Others who were E. P. Harrington, Lieut. J. O. Manson, Sergeant H. K. Simpson, G. B. Fowle, Edwin Mann, and E. S. Davis.

Those who attended were Alex Abrams, Dr. George N. Acker, Charles Atkinson, Edward S. Aley, Frank M. Barnes, Gus A. Brandt, John T. Clements, James H. Clear, J. B. Callahan, Charles S. Omer, A. G. Du Bois, Edward L. Dunn, Edward Dunn, George W. Evans, William K. Ellis, Edmund K. Fox, Albert H. Gawler, Henri Guillaume, E. E. Thomas, Thomas F. Garner, E. Getzenbauer, Thomas F. Holden, Edward P. Father Donlon Gives Diplomas to Nurses

President Donlon, of Georgetown University, was the principal speaker yesterday at the graduation exercises of the Georgetown Training School for Nurses in Gaston Hall. A class of eleven young women, the largest class ever graduated from the school for nurses, received diplomas.

Father Donlon advised the graduates to remain firm to the standards they had learned from their teachers at the hospital.

Dr. Prentiss Wilson also addressed the nurses. After the graduation exercises a reception was held in the Riggs Memorial Hall.

Those graduated were: Misses Miriam G. Hoffman, Barbara L. Sandmair, and Mary A. Gallabally, of Pennsylvania; Sarah E. Kladenbach, S. Marie Hughes, and Oona Bonomo, of Maryland; Mary C. Cheving and Margaret Hogan, of Virginia; Frances V. Kelly, of New York; the arrival of the Italian fleet, the messages added, Lemnos lies about half way between Mt. Athos and the coast of Asia minor, and its area is about 175 square miles. The population of the island is about 40,000.

Italian War Fleet to Occupy Lemnos Soon

ROME, June 11.—The Italian war fleet in the Aegean sea is getting ready to occupy Lemnos, one of the biggest and most important islands in the archipelago, according to dispatches from the Italian commander received today. The Turkish garrison capitulated upon the arrival of the Italian fleet, the messages added. Lemnos lies about half way between Mt. Athos and the coast of Asia minor, and its area is about 175 square miles. The population of the island is about 40,000.

Official Boats for Regatta Are Picked

NEW LONDON, June 11.—The official boats for the Yale-Harvard Regatta on June 21, were decided upon today. August Belmont's Scout, will be the referee's boat. Charles H. Hoyt's Grayling will carry the regatta committee. Gen. Henry A. Bishop's Akela will be the judges' boat. And there will be four United States revenue cutters to keep the course clear. There has been a great shake-up in the Yale varsity crew today. The order of the Darby Blue boat now is as follows: Bow, George, No. 2, Freeman; No. 3, Stephenson; No. 4, Denham; No. 5, Romero; No. 6, Phillips; No. 7, Allen; stroke, Snowden. This will probably be the final order.

OFFICIALS ABSENT, ELECTION TO WAIT

Voters of Potomac Find Polling Places Closed When They Go to Cast Ballots—Clerks Too Busy to Accept Job.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU, ALEXANDRIA, VA., JUNE 11.

Sixty voters, all seeking to exercise their right to the ballot as American citizens, sought the polling places in the little town of Potomac, Alexandria county, this morning, only to find that right refused them. The doors were locked and there were no judges, no clerks, or any official of any sort on hand. This acute situation came following a closely contested mayoralty campaign, in which interest was at fever heat.

Amazed at this unusual procedure, the voters there assembled held an impromptu mass meeting, demanding the reason why the privilege of suffrage was not accorded them, and the explanation was soon forthcoming. There had been no judges, clerks, or registrars appointed, or who had at least accepted appointment. It seems that press of other business had caused a delay in the matter until yesterday. A hasty canvass was made, but no one was found who could accept service. Without these officials there could be no election.

As a result of this situation, it will be necessary to hold a special election later. On the ticket for city offices there was no opposition to any candidate save one, that being Robert Zachary, who opposed H. J. Kremer for reelection to the mayoralty. It is hinted that these candidates may welcome the delay, affording, as it does, a further opportunity for campaigning.

With the recommendation that some action be taken to obtain evidence against the various gambling houses alleged to be in operation in this city, the grand jury in corporation court yesterday afternoon returned ten indictments of the eleven presentments made to it.

Upon the reading of the report by the clerk, Judge Barley at once expressed his willingness to adjourn the jury over to such a date as might be convenient, and to summon all such witnesses as they might direct in an effort to make a thorough investigation of the matter. Robert S. Barrett, the foreman, informed the court that they felt that "chances of justice were being everything in his power to handle the situation, calling attention to the difficulty in obtaining evidence in such cases, and further, that the jury felt that it could do little at this time.

In accordance with another recommendation, calling attention to the failure of local junk and second-hand dealers to obtain proper permits and give bond, Judge Barley directed the clerk to notify all such offenders at once.

Although an election is in progress in Alexandria today, it would be difficult for a stranger to discover it. An exceedingly light vote is being polled, and when the count is made tonight it is predicted that it will hardly represent half the city's voting strength. "Two names appear on the ticket, which were not represented in the primary, these being Robert S. Barrett for councilman from the First ward, and William Desmond, councilman from the Second ward.

Dependent because he had lost his situation, Frederick Paff, aged thirty-one, employed at the Mt. Vernon station, attempted suicide yesterday afternoon. He was found on the upper floor of the station, about 5 o'clock, suffering great agony, an empty bottle which had contained carbolic acid, mixed with vomit, lying beside him. He was treated by Dr. Warfield, and was soon out of danger.

Benjamin Abramson, a King street merchant, who was arrested on a State warrant, sworn out by Charles St. Martin, and who keeps the store adjoining, because he had placed a show case on the sidewalk, which it was claimed projected beyond the building line, retaliated this morning by swearing out a similar warrant for Marshall.

At last night's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to hold no further meetings until the second Monday in September. The business affairs of the year were wound up, and the reports of committees read, showing everything to be in a first class condition.

Funeral services for Andrew Javins were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, at the residence of the family, 1000 B street. Burial was made in the family lot there.

A smoker was given by the members of the Old Dominion Boat Club at their clubhouse on the river front last evening.

A cow, the owner of which is not known, fell into an open sewer on upper Royal street this morning. The police came to the rescue and later extricated the animal from its perilous position.

Cries of murder rent the air at 1 o'clock this morning, from the Fairfax Beach, Bell, and Nowland, investigating found them issuing from a house occupied by Jerry and Mamie Simms, colored, who were in the throes of a family quarrel.

The will of the late Thomas Fairfax was admitted to probate yesterday. The estate is left to the widow, Susan Fairfax, who is also named executrix.

This Is Anniversary Of Peace Agreement

Seven years ago today Russia and Japan agreed to a peace conference with a view of terminating the war in Manchuria, and President Roosevelt named Portsmouth, N. H., as the place of meeting. Nine years ago the King and Queen of Serbia were assassinated at Belgrade. Three years before on this date the chancellor of the Japanese legation of Peking was assassinated. On this day, 1798, Napoleon Bonaparte took the island of Malta. It was on June 11, 1798, four years after the discovery of America, that Columbus returned to Spain to meet the charges of his enemies. June 11 is the anniversary of the birthday in 1874 of Ben Jonson, the English poet, and in 1872 of Peter the Great.

Bandmaster Tyrrell Retires From Position

Retired for disability, George F. Tyrrell, who served as an army musician in Cuba and the Philippines, and for three years has been bandmaster of the Fifteenth Cavalry at Fort Myer, left the organization yesterday. Arthur Whitcomb, cornetist of the Marine Band, was selected as his successor.

John L. Sullivan, Once Champion, Is Improved

ABINGDON, Mass., June 11.—John L. Sullivan, once champion heavyweight prize fighter, has just recovered from an illness, which for several days kept his friends watching his condition anxiously. Abingdon is going to celebrate its 200th birthday next week, and it was at a meeting of the arrangement committee that Sullivan contracted a cold.

Medical Men Meet.

SPRING LAKE, N. J., June 11.—Several hundred physicians and surgeons of this State are in attendance at the 14th annual meeting of the New Jersey State Medical Society, which opened here today.

ARMY BILL, WITH SLAM AT WOOD, IS ADOPTED BY SENATE

Unless Measure Is Vetoed Chief of Staff Will Lose Place.

Despite the charge of "personal legislation" the Senate yesterday adopted the conference report on the army appropriation bill, whereby after March 4, 1913, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood will be ineligible as Chief of Staff.

Senator Lodge attacked the conference report primarily because the Senate was already on record in opposition to legislation attached to the appropriation bill. Legislation against Major General Wood was included, with numerous other provisions in the bill as it came from the House. The Senate rejected the legislative additions. The conferees promptly put this legislation back and through the adoption of the report yesterday the Senate backedtracked on its previous decision.

In addition, said Senator Lodge, the conferees had initiated legislation which had not been heard of in either branch of Congress before.

Senator Hitchcock also attacked the assumption of power by the conference committee.

"The conference committee," he said, "not only usurps the functions of the House and the Senate in creating new legislation, but it assumes executive functions. It names and appoints a board of retired officers to constitute, with two Senators and two members of the House of Representatives, a commission to take into consideration the military posts of the United States."

Senator Root opposed the report because of the shaft directed at General Wood and pointed out that Colonel Goethals even would be ineligible for the position of Chief of Staff. Senator Warren, who defended the report, attempted to minimize the importance of the matter by stating that there were numerous positions more important than that of Chief of Staff.

It is almost certain that the House will accept the report of its conferees. In that event a veto at the White House is the only thing to stop the "personal" legislation of the measure. A veto would imperil the $22,000,000 of appropriations in the bill.

Pitt Pleads Guilty, Sentence Suspended

BALTIMORE, June 11.—Pembroke W. Pitt, the Baltimore grain broker, charging with forging bills of lading for over $300,000, and who, after a long chase, was arrested in Naples, Italy, pleaded guilty to an indictment in the criminal court yesterday. Sentence was suspended by Judge Elliott.

"I do not ask the mercy of the court for myself," said Pitt, "but such mercy as there may be, let it be on account of my old mother, who still thinks her boy all right; for a true, loyal, and devoted wife, and for sisters that also suffer. They are the ones that pray in silence for mercy."

Oppose Water Rates.

John B. Colpoys and Milton Snellings were named by the Central Labor Union last night as a committee to draft a resolution in support of Senator Gallinger's bill preventing a change in water rates in the District. Representatives of the union will also appear before the Senate Judiciary Committee in support of the Clayton anti-injunction bill. This measure, limiting the power of judges to issue injunctions, has passed the House.

Queen Now

—The Summer Girl

She's the man's girl after all. Men don't want to link silks and satins and furbelows with the summer girl. Men feel rather than see; they feel the influence of the summer girl; they don't see the cost of her dress.

To man the S. G. is an angel, generally in white; she's to them the peer of the roses, a summer poem.

And the summer girl's dress need cost so little!

S. G. Needs

1. She needs McCall's "Fashions," costing nothing here.
2. A McCall Pattern, here at 10c or 15c.

Eye Talks

By Dr. Ralph Martin Samuel

Asthenopia—weak sight. In other words, the ciliary muscle easily relaxes and the accommodating power of the lenses in the eyes is suddenly lost, causing print or sewing to become confused, accompanied with weakness and pain of the eyeball and often in the forehead and temple. The proper glasses help the weak ciliary muscle and relief is immediate and lasting. I have helped thousands suffering with this and can others.

Let's compare banking service with —the accommodation that one business man frequently asks from another.

Suppose you go to a friend for a business favor—a financial accommodation.

If he's wealthy and prosperous you ask without hesitation—the favor, if merited, is granted with pleasure.

If his resources are limited you're timid about asking, and while he may wish it were possible to help he must be conservative to the point of refusing.

That's just where the big bank can be the big friend without stepping over the line of absolute safety.

Let us be your big business friend.

We pay interest on the balances of regular checking accounts. That's an income you'll appreciate, but there are many other features of our banking service which are of far more value to the business man.
